03.11c LIMING

Liming is generally a type of bleaching process carried out before a finish is applied to the floor. Liming can be applied as a “liming” coat and all “liming” generally gives a floor a lighter, slightly milky appearance.

Please note: Liming and staining is a “Specialist” trade and clients are recommended to consult with only your chosen NWFAA Licensed Contractor for advice.

03.11d STAINING

Many timber stains are available to modify the natural color of your chosen timber. Remember however, that it may be difficult or impossible to restore the natural color if you change your mind.

Please note: Liming and staining is a “Specialist” trade and clients are recommended to consult with only your chosen NWFAA Licensed Contractor for advice.
